Woman's Club to Open Season With Luncheon

AT a meeting of the board of directors of Carmel Woman's Club Monday afternoon, final plans were made for the opening of the club season. The first meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 5; a luncheon at Pine Inn, to be followed by a program in the assembly room at the Inn. The speaker will be Dr. Theodore Kreps of Stanford, who will give a review of the Institute of Pacific Relations held recently at Yosemite, the first time this conference has been held on this side of the Pacific. As one of the delegates, and a particularly effective speaker, the club feels most fortunate to have secured him for discussion of an event which it follows each year with great interest.

Club members will have the privilege of bringing guests to the luncheon, and prospective members will be welcomed at this time. Fine programs are in prospect for the year, it was announced by Mrs. Harry S. Nye, and as always, the pleasant social atmosphere for which the club is famous will be emphasized.

A number of changes in the board of directors were announced, for with the roving habit which so many Carmelites have, several of the board members have changed their residence or are traveling this year. Mrs. E. H. Yocum, long chairman of the garden section, asked to be relieved of those duties last spring, Miss D'Arcy Gaw was appointed to the post, and Mrs. Yocum consented to act as program chairman of the club. Since then she has left to live in Honolulu for the next year, but she had the programs for the year well outlined before she left, and Mrs. J. K. Lynch will carry on as acting program chairman. Miss Gaw has been obliged by other duties to withdraw as garden chairman, and the section will choose another chairman at its first meeting, at the home of Mrs. Joseph G. Hooper.

Mrs. Otis Berthold, recording secretary, has moved to Monterey since last spring, and so has given up her post on the board of directors, though she will continue as an associate member of the club. Miss Agnes Knight has taken her place as recording secretary. Mrs. A. F. Chidester, elected house chairman, will be away for a part of the year, and Mrs. Joseph G. Hooper is taking her place in that post. Miss Elizabeth Mascord is replacing Mrs. Hooper as director at large. Miss Agnes Ford, the efficient press chairman for a number of years, will be traveling and living in San Francisco this year, and to her post has been appointed Mrs. Ross C. Miller.

Other board members, in addition to Mrs. Nye, the president, and those already mentioned, are: Mrs. Fenton Grigsby, vice president; Mrs. Calvert Meade, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. E. Heathorne, chairman of hospitality; Mrs. J. B. McCarthy, chairman of revision. Section chairmen are: Mrs. Lawrence M. Knox, current events; Mrs. Ross C. Miller, books; and Mrs. Jennie V. Cannon is to be chairman of a new section devoted to art study. Programs of the sections are in formation, and will be announced later.

Fire Prevention Week Is Scheduled for October 4 to 10

Under Fire Chief Robert G. Leidig, Carmel Fire Department is perfecting more extensive plans than ever before for observance of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4 to 10. As well as various activities for the entertainment and edification of the public, the department will conduct an intensive fire "clean-up" campaign in the business district that week, and to win their approval all that will be necessary is for business houses to do away with prospective fire menaces before the fire laddies arrive. One feature of the week will be a spectacular drill, and "rescue" with water flowing like campagne, to be staged at the corner of Ocean and Dolores.

First Forum Talk Scheduled Oct. 1

Carmel Forum, conducted under the auspices of the adult education department of Monterey Union High School, will open its 1936-37 lecture series the evening of Thursday, Oct. 1, with Eric H. Thomsen as guest speaker, at 8 o'clock in Sunset Auditorium. The subject chosen as topic of the evening is a live issue: "Present Migratory Labor Problems in California." There is no admission charge.

As assistant regional director in charge of the migratory camp program for the Resettlement Administration in the Ninth Region, Mr. Thomsen has had an excellent opportunity to develop the background for his lecture. Prior to his transfer to the ninth region, which includes the states of California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah, Mr. Thomsen served the Resettlement Administration in the same capacity in the drought and dust areas of Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas. Previous to joining the Resettlement Administration he was on the staff of the Tennessee Valley Authority and he helped to set up the community program for the town of Norris.

Thursday's Forum offers the community an opportunity to hear a frank discussion of one of the vital problems for which the agricultural areas of California are seeking a satisfactory social and economic solution. A question period will follow the lecture.

JUDGE WOOD TO ENTER SAN FRANCISCO HOSPITAL

Judge George L. Wood will leave for San Francisco Monday, to enter a hospital for observation and rest. He expects to be away for five or six weeks. This will be his first "vacation" since taking up the duties of city judge four and a half years ago.

Roosevelt Club Meeting Oct. 9

Plans were going forward this week for another open meeting of the Carmel Roosevelt club, to be held Friday evening, Oct. 9, Sunset auditorium. Arrangements for a speaker, promised to be "as good as J. R. Files", who greatly stimulated the club at its first meeting in August, are now being made by Frederick R. Bechdolt, chairman of the club. The club is also planning another open meeting, with a speaker, Friday evening, Oct. 30, also at Sunset, as the final session before the election of Nov. 3.

All club members and others interested are asked to bear these two dates in mind, with a view to attending themselves and bringing friends who wish to hear the Roosevelt campaign discussed fairly and intelligently. Further details will be announced following a final meeting of Mr. Bechdolt and an informal executive committee at the end of this week.

Miss Helen Marie Newmark has been appointed office secretary of Sunset school. She took up her new duties on Sept. 14.

Employes of Del Monte Building Bachelor Hall

Two young bachelors, T. Olson and Charles Gillett, both employes of Hotel Del Monte, are building themselves a bachelor hall in Carmel Woods, on Camino Del Monte. "Building" it, literally; with their own hands, on a beautiful piece of ground with a full 100-foot frontage. If all goes well and they continue good friends, they expect to occupy it together. They started work Aug. 10 and expect to have it finished in another month.

Ted Durein Wins $1000 Article Prize

Ted Durein, Monterey Herald reporter, was one of ten writers to be awarded $1000 first prizes in the Readers Digest contest for articles from writers who had not previously appeared in national publications. Only five $1000 prizes were first offered, but in selecting from 43,788 manuscripts submitted, the magazine found it eased the task of selection to double the number of major awards. 'Scab is a Nasty Name" was the title of Durein's article.

Carmel Helps to Boost County Fair

County Fair spirit burgeoned in Carmel this week, with the almost unprecedented result that a goodly proportion of the most frequently seen men-about-town are wearing blue "sheep-herders", chambray shirts, and red neck-kerchiefs. Those gals who have the figure for them are also wearing jeans; others are considering smocks and berets as appropriate. to Carmel tradition, and also more pleasing to the eye. There was some talk of exerting pressure, in the way of a kangaroo court and hoosegow, on recalcitrants, but this was abandoned when it was rumored that it might start a riot. Individualistic Carmelites, in other words, will wear fair costume if they feel like it, and if they don't, it would necessitate calling out the Marines to make them. The infection, however, is spreading by peaceful means.

All this is by way of impressing upon the public the fact that Monterey county is to hold a fair in Monterey Oct. 8 to 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Matthias went to San Francisco Monday, returning last evening.

Defendants Win Decision Over Liquor Clause In Carmel Deeds

LIQUOR sales restrictions on property in Carmel were held invalid in a decision made by Judge H. G. Jorgensen in Superior Court at Salinas last Saturday. The verdict favors Espindola's and Isabel A. Leidig, defendants in a suit instituted by Carmel Development Company, which has dragged through the courts for many months.

The facts of the case are unique and peculiar to the locality, stated the judge in his decision referring to Carmel, and that while the case may have been a test case, it was a test one so far as the locality is concerned because "every case must stand or fall by its own facts. However the court realizes that the decision in this case will directly or indirectly affect" many people owning property in Carmel.

The plaintiff asked for the forfeiture of realty under terms of a liquor sale restriction clause inserted in contracts and deeds to certain property by owners of more than 35 years ago, which specified that sale of the property was on the express condition that no intoxicating liquor be sold and in case of a breach of the covenant that all property should revert to the original owners.

The judge declared that the departure from the original plan of keeping out liquor interests, shown by selling property free from any restrictions, such as the Palace Drug company, which in effect created a monopoly, the school district, the water company and Del Monte Properties Company as well as other land on which the original sub-dividers failed to adopt the liquor plan, showed that the original land owners did not have in mind the fact of keeping the entire area free from sale of intoxicating liquor.

"The court must therefore find that there have been actual waivers of the conditions which seriously deviate from the general plan, which must be considered abandoned in the legal sense.

"In view of the fact that our courts may be generally hostile to conditions in deeds restricting the use of real property, the law and the equity of the case must be on the side of the defendants."

The original complaint was filed in the superior court July 17, 1934.

Passengers in the smoking compartment on my train were arguing about why railroad business is picking up.

A factory owner said it was because of Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight. The railroad calls for the LCL freight at shipper's door and delivers it to consignee's door.

A traveling salesman said it was because so many passenger and freight trains now run on faster schedules.

There was a school principal in the group and he said it was because train travel is so much cheaper for passengers. He said passenger fares are at the lowest point in history, with substantial reductions if you buy a round-trip ticket—and no more surcharge for riding in sleeping cars.

One man, a farmer, said he liked something he could depend on, that's why he was traveling by train.

Another man, a newspaper reporter, said people were in favor of railroad travel because it is by far the safest. He quoted a lot of statistics from a book called, "Live and Let Live."

A banker we all know by name said railroad tax payments mean a lot in this state.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

W. E. Haseltine Taken by Death

After a brief illness, W. E. Haseltine passed away Sunday night at Peninsula Community hospital. For the past eight years, since coming here from his former home in Boston, he had lived in Carmel Valley. He is survived by two sisters, Miss Orre B. Haseltine, who made her home with him at Los Ranchitos, and Miss Caroline Haseltine of Brookline, Mass. He was 65 years of age.

Mr. Haseltine was a native of Youngstown, Ohio, where he spent his earlier years. He was engaged in the electrical business in Boston up to the time of his retirement. Interment will be at Youngstown, seat of the family for five generations. Miss Haseltine left for the east this week to attend the last rites for her brother.

INDIAN VILLAGE PICNIC

A jolly picnic at Indian Village was enjoyed after school recently by the teachers of Sunset school, their husbands and wives, members of the board of trustees. After a brisk game of baseball typical picnic viands were enjoyed, following by an evening around a big bonfire, with yarns and group singing.

Finds Image of Aunt on Stamps

IMAGINE Mrs. Carol Edwards' surprise the other day when she picked up a letter and found her aunt's picture on the outside of it. And on the stamp, at that. The aunt is Susan B. Anthony, and the reason that her picture is now adorning a large portion of the daily mail is that the post office department has made a special issue of stamps to commemorate her work as a pioneer, practically the pioneer, of the woman suffrage movement. Among other honors showered upon her was that of being the first woman to have her bust placed in Westminster Abbey, though she has been joined since by others of her sex.

Miss Anthony's signature adorns Mrs. Edwards' wedding certificate, as one of the witnesses. There was a close bond between the celebrated reformer and her young niece, and Mrs. Edwards has most affectionate intimate memories of her. Their home city, Rochester, N. Y., made Miss Anthony the gift of a beautiful home after she had acquired fame, and at the big "housewarming" of the mansion, Mrs. Edwards made her debut n dramatic recital. A three-volume edition of Miss Anthony's collected works was one of her weddiing gifts, from the author.

Though Miss Anthony is most often thought of in connection with her work for woman suffrage, this was far from being the extent of her activities. She played a prominent part in the temperance movement of her day, was a leader in the anti-slavery movement and advocated enlargement of educational opportunities for women. She was born in 1820, of Quaker parentage; taught school in New York from 1835 to 1850, devoted the middle portion of her life to her numerous progressive interests, and died in 1906. In 1900 her 80th birthday was celebrated by an affecting popular demonstration in Washington, D. C.

Measures Again Topic Wednesday

Continuing the exacting task of studying the state propositions to be voted upon in the November election, the League of Women Voters, who heard Robert Fouke's analysis of them at their meeting last week, will devote a second session to this weighty subject, next Wednesday noon at Asilomar. The speaker will be Mrs. Paul Eliel, state League president, who will discuss the measures closely related to the League's program and legislative matters. Study group chairmen will present the tentative programs for their respective sections. At 2 o'clock the general meeting will break up into sections for discussion of the study group programs. Reservations for the luncheon should be made not later than the noon of the day before the meeting, with Miss Emma Abel, phone 1043-R, in Carmel, or Mrs. F. Workman, phone 6552, in Monterey.

REACTIONS OF READERS

ANSWERS CLARK LETTER

Editor The Pine Cone:

I am taking this opportunity to thank The Pine Cone for its strong moral support of the Sanitary Board's position in the cause of keeping the sewers off Carmel beaches. I welcome at this time also the invitation to answer publicly the open letter published over Kent Clark's signature in three of the peninsula's newspapers last week.

I wish to state that in his letter Mr. Clark is inaccurate and misleading in saying that I requested "a committee composed of William Silva, Joseph Burge and Kent Clark to employ an engineer experienced in installing outfall sewers." I merely inquired of these three gentlemen if they would be willing to serve on such a committee if the board saw fit to appoint them.

As to Mr. Clark's recommendation, the board has decided that its own five members, having made exhaustive studies of the entire disposal problem, is in a better position to choose whom shall be best qualified to serve as the district's technical adviser and not only this but that it, the board, has been entrusted with the responsibility and placed in this position by the direct mandate of the voters to act as it sees fit, not to pass this function onto other persons or to a committee of unestablished identity.

As to recommendation No. 2, a, b, and c in this letter, the board will have a definite proposal to place before the voters, including all costs of the project recommended. This data will be set forth in detail and in such form and manner that it will be thoroughly understood by the voters, prior to the date set for the bond election.

In Mr. Clark's recommendation No. 3 I fail entirely to understand what bearing this matter for a financial accounting of expenditures for the past year has on the present disposal situation. I do understand that when an individual introduces a question of financial accounting into a subject such as the above and does so in an open letter to the public in the spirit of criticism as created therein, that there can be and is, one apparent reason or motive; namely, to cast suspicion on the board and to confuse the issue. I personally feel that such an attitude on the part of an individual or group is so destructive in spirit that it at once defeats its own purpose.

I do not feel that the clarity of the situation is going to be effected by this sort of cheap, mistrustful propaganda.

In final answer to this letter and in summing up, I want to correct and deny the quoted statement over Kent Clark's signature, as follows: "We want to emphasize the fact that up to this time no actual survey as to the possibilities or cost of an outfall sewer has ever been made here. Therefore, any figures or objections submitted to date on that type are merely guesswork." A careful survey has been made of the entire subject of ocean disposal and is given in Mr. Gray's report under date of June 4, 1936. Two minor phases only, have been omitted from the report, namely, the exact ocean depth and the float tests to determine ocean currents. The costly nature of these tests as well as the element of delay in securing them, was looked upon by the board as far outweighing the advantages in determining cost of this form of disposal.

I disagree with Kent Clark and the Taxpayers Council and do not believe the board is asking the people of the district to sign any blank checks or "buy a pig in the poke."

HUGH W. COMSTOCK,
President, Carmel District
Sanitary Board.

THE BAL MASQUE

Editor The Pine Cone:

In last week's issue, one of your contributors took up the matter of the forthcoming Bal Masque to be held at Del Monte on Oct. 3.

He charged that the ball was simply a money-making scheme for a "local hotel which has little to do with Carmel." Furthermore, he declared that in photographs published by newspapers advertising the affair, girls were used who never posed for artists in their lives.

I would like to clear up these two points. In the first place, it was not Del Monte, but a committee of the Carmel Art Association which originally asked the privilege of staging its annual Bal Masque at Del Monte. Part of the proceeds from the ball go to the Carmel Art Association; in fact after the first ball, the second mortgage on the Carmel Art Association gallery building was lifted.

Without the aid of the proceeds derived from the Bal Masque, it would be impossible for the Carmel Art Association to keep its doors open to the public without solicitation of funds from the public. Hotel Del Monte has never made any substantial profit, because of the tremendous expense in entertainment and decoration. Last year there was a material deficit.

Mr. Johnson, like other residents of Carmel, has no idea of the work or expense in staging this ball. For the past four weeks, the outstanding artists in Carmel have been working day and night making decorations for this event. It seems unfair that someone like Mr. Johnson, who has not investigated all the details regarding the ball should attack it in such a fashion.

Mr. Johnson also stated that some of the "so-called artists who have posed for publicity pictures might do a few murals for a local cannery without causing too much adverse comment." That is possible.

Has Mr. Johnson considered the committee behind the Bal Masque? People like Harry Leon Wilson, Samuel G. Blythe, Martin Flavin and many others who seldom loan their names to any event are on the committee.

Regarding the models used in publicity pictures: almost all of them have posed at one time or another for artists. What in hell is the difference; they all must start sometime! Different names have been used because on previous occasions when the right names were printed, the girls were bothered by telephone calls from strangers. It has been done merely as a protection to them.

It seems a pity that a contributor to Carmel's own paper should criticize an event which has co-operation from all over the state—but then—there are always people who like to criticize!

(Signed) ARMIN HANSEN,
President, Carmel Art Assn.

Ties Settled In Run-off Election

In a student body election at Sunset school last Friday, followed by a run-off election Monday to settle ties, the following officers were chosen: Dick Williams, president; Howard Levinson, vice president; Patsy Shephard, secretary; Bill Coffin, business manager. At a faculty meeting Tuesday, R. J. Gale was selected as faculty advisor.

Elected officers, class representatives and Mr. Bardarson will serve as the executive council of the student body, to undertake any responsibilities in connection with school affairs which the pupils are able and willing to assume. Some of their activities will be traffic control, school cleanup, corirdor control, publishing of Sunset Glow, the school paper; cooperation in forming the athletic program, and the paper drive.

San Antonio Bargain Lots

We offer two very desirable lots, at a bargain. They are close to the center of Carmel's business activity, and of easy access to the beach. Nice slope, well surrounded for protection, and about $1,000 less than prevailing prices for similar quality.

Also we offer an unusually beautiful piece of wooded land, at a price that averages about $650 per lot for the property. This price is a saving of from $250 per lot to $350 for land of good quality. But, there is nothing that equals this land in artistic value. Magnificent trees, glimpse of the mountains, fully protected by the nature of the land itself. If you want a piece of land in the woods, this is the best opportunity you are apt to have.

Argyll Cambell's Statement on Strike Gets Statewide Attention

A STATEMENT by Argyll Campbell of Carmel received statewide attention Saturday, when he declared "The Salinas lettuce strike has neither been communist-inspired nor is it communist-led." Mr. Campbell made this statement as president of the Monterey County Anti-Communist League. He further declared that leaders of the strike have been personally known to him for two years or more, and that he knows definitely of steps they have taken to "weed out" communists from their ranks.

While conditions remained quiet on the Salinas battle-front this week, the San Francisco Chronicle began on Wednesday a sensational series of "inside" stories on the strike, paraphrasing the title of Sinclair Lewis' novel on fascism in America, "It DID Happen in Salinas".

The first story, written by Paul C. Smith, executive editor of the Chronicle said, in part: "For 15 days Salinas has lived under a ruthless dictatorship of the exact sort described in Sinclair Lewis' sensational novel, "It Can't Happen Here" . . . For a full fortnight the 'constituted authorities' of Salinas have been but the helpless pawns of sinister fascist forces which have operated from a barricaded hotel floor in the center of town. Under this dictatorship, minor children, boys under 21, have been deputized and armed; high school students have been pressed into service for the manufacture of clubs; nauseating and dysentary gases have been shot along crowded streets by high-powered bomb projectors; news photographers have been beaten, their plates destroyed and cameras disabled; reporters from the conservative press have been menaced by police officers, and denied protection by State Highway police when threatened with 'lynching' by power-mad deputies, some of whom were, in addition, glazed by the glow of a too-free indulgence in alcohol."

Forest Hill School Opens Winter Season

Forest Hill School has opened its winter term with several changes in the faculty. Miss Mary Shipman of Santa Clara has charge of the nursery school department. She received training at San Jose, holding credentials in associate arts, nursery school and child guidance, and will also teach French, crafts and dancing in the afternoon. Miss Suzanne Hedger will teach art and German. She has studied art in Paris with Paul Belun at the Academy Colarossi, and for seven years in Germany. She is also a talented violinist, having studied in Vienna.

Forest Theater In Final Report

At a meeting of the Forest Theater board of directors at the home of Henry Dickinson, president, a final report was heard on Forest Theater finances after a check-up of the "Inchling" production and the Village Fair. It was discovered that the costs of "Inchling" were unusually low for that type of performance, due to careful management, and the large amount of volunteer work. Only $165.81 of the total intake of $481.50 constituted expense, leaving a balance with all bills paid of $315.69.

Receipts from the village fair were $839.20; expenditures, $329.89, leaving a balance of $510.31. For the first time in four years, with all current expenses paid, the Forest Theater closes the season with a surplus. County taxes have been paid, but nearly $900 is owed to the city of Carmel, for back taxes and penalties. There is also a matter of $443.90, representing bills left unpaid from previous years, and so the season's profits of $816 will have to be spread thin. The board designated Mr. Dickinson and E. A. H. Watson as a temporary finance committee to spend this money where it would do the most good in satisfying as many creditors as possible.

New School Library Room Nearly Ready

Preparation of the former fourth grade room as the new school library is proceeding apace, according to Otto W. Bardarson, Sunset school principal. Book shelves and tables are now being built, and it is expected that the room will be ready for use in another month. It is desired particularly to have the room finished in time for the October meeting of the P-T. A., when a ceremonial unveiling of the Armin Hansen mural, the school's most precious art treasure, is planned. The mural is to hang permanently in the library.

MRS. JENNIE V. CANNON, a member of the Carmel Art Association, was the guest speaker at the September monthly meeting of the Allied Arts Club of San Francisco. Mrs. Cannon spoke on "The Source of Dependable Art Criticism as Applied to Current Exhibits." The Gaugin collection in the San Francisco Art Museum was the subject under immediate discussion.

Mrs. Cannon also spoke to an audience at the Valahdin Emerson studio about Proposition 20 on the November ballot, relating to publicly-owned museums or art galleries. Mrs. Cannon strongly favors the measure, which she describes as "taking art out of politics" and commends it as of vital concern to every citizen in California. She explained that until art is housed separately from museum exhibits, such as furniture and bric-a-brac, the state will not be the recipient of valuable works of art such as paintings, sculpture and print collections. "A steady policy and not a fluctuating one, such as party politics make posisble, is necesssary before art will be what it should be in the state of California," she declared. Eastern magazines have considered the possibility of passing this proposition of sufficient interest to the world of art at large that they are devoting considerable space to discussing it, she said.

The measure provides that public art galleries may be given over to non-profit organizations for management, and validates such arrangements already existing.

Don Blanding, noted poet and Carmel resident, and his manager, "Scotty" Creager, have returned from San Francisco, where Mr. Blanding was honored at a reception held by Paul Elder at his book store. Mr. Blanding is suffering from writers' cramp from autographing copies of his numerous books of poems purchased at the reception by those present.

A University of California extension division course in the technique of the short story, conducted by Miss Maren Elwood, will open in Monterey, tomorrow, extension division officials announced today.

The course, which will be held on Saturdays at 8 p. m. in the music room of Monterey high school, will deal with problems in plotting, plot patterns and marketing with analysis of current published stories.

Miss Elwood, an expert on short story writing and marketing, has conducted classes in writing for the extension division in San Francisco and Oakland for several years. A number of her own stories have been published in American and Canadian periodicals. She is also a former member of the faculty of Mills College.

The enrollment fee for the ten meetings of the course will be $6 plus the annual registration of $1, which entitles students to enroll in any extension division course during the academic year 1936-37. Those who wish to "sample" the course before enrolling may attend the first meeting without charge, extension division officials announced.

The San Francisco Society of Women Artists will hold its 11th annual exhibit at the San Francisco Museum of Art, from Oct. 29 to Nov. 29. The exhibit is to consist of all types of art work, including photography. Entries from artists not members of the society will also be accepted. All exhibits must be at the museum by Oct. 14, cost prepaid by the artist.

A Pulitzer prize for the short story is urged by Whit Burnett in the End Pages of the October issue of Story. "There is a Pulitzer prize for the novel, play, poem and biography," says Mr. Burnett, "but for such a specially indigenous and traditional American art form as the American short story there is no prize. And if the short story is as important as it seems to be here, and certainly other countries recognize it as such, why isn't there?"

A roman a clef involving a well-known French author and an equally well-known sculptor called "Partial Eclipse", by James Laughlin IV, is the leading story in this issue of Story. Other contributors include Madelene Cole, Sean O'Faolain, author of the new novel "Bird Alone", James R. Aswell, Roma Rose, Harvey Williamson, Marjorie Murphy, Harry Bernstein and Ludwig Bemelmans, who illustrates his own story.

Pupils of Borghild Janson Give Pleasing Recital at Local Church

A UNIQUE and pleasant event was the vocal recital given Monday evening at Community church by pupils of Borghild Janson. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, with candles and green garlands at the windows, arrangements of flowers and foliage in the pulpit.

A quality which the singers all shared, and which recommends the teaching methods of Mme. Janson, was an unforced, unstrained voice production, with quantities of volume readily attainable, and a pleasing lack of vocal mannerisms. The singing, in all cases, was natural and simple and occasional breathiness could be put down to nervousness rather than to fundamental fault. As a group, the singers had voices of such different type and coloring that it made for interesting variety, and for the most part the songs were well selected.

Particular interest centered in the two Norwegian cantatas, never before presented in this country, with which the program opened and closed. The first, "Jarius' Daughter", is by Sophie Irgens, and Mme. Janson's father, Kristofer Janson, wrote the words. Edith Anderson carried the difficult solo part most creditably, with able assistance from a chorus consisting of Nancy Gross, Marion Kitrell, Anabelle Powell, Dr. John Ferry and Dr. W. B. Williams. May Williams played an organ overture and also assisted the chorus. Mrs. Anderson's voice is clear, sweet and of great power, with occasional tones of bell-like beauty; the closing notes of her part in the cantata were memorable.

The other cantata was by Grieg, and without the dramatization given it by Nancy Gross and Marion Kitrell, it would be a trifle monotonous, with the alternate repetition of two phrases. Miss Gross wore an old and authentic Norwegian peasant costume, which her blonde beauty suited admirably, and Miss Powell was coiffed as a nun. A frightened and desperate girl who has seen her lover kill her father seeks refuge in the cloister, and the nun interrogates her. With a natural dramatic flare, Miss Gross made the most of the clarion plea to unlock the cloister gate, with a fervor which also unlocked a ready emotional response in the audience. The scene was lighted entirely by candles, and was most effective. The back-stage chorus of women's voices suggested nuns at their devotions.

Gladys Steele gave the singers able support at the piano, and Max Hagemeyer played cello obbligatos to the solo group of Miss Kitrell, as well as giving two Bach numbers as solos. This young player shows a consistent progress, and has at his command a mellow sweetness of tone auguring fine things for his future.

Miss Kitrell's singing suggested that she has organically perfect vocal equipment. Perhaps that is discounting too much the part her teacher may have played, but her singing seemed peculiarly effortless and natural, and structure only could explain the overtone which gives an unusual coloring to her voice. Her first song in particular, though trivial in itself, did show in a remarkable manner the wide range of qualities her voice possesses, both dramatic and pensive.

Mrs. Anderson and Miss Powell are to be congratulated for undertaking the exacting Lohengrin arias, and both have voices adequate to these fine operatic numbers. Miss Gross was most effective in her two numbers from Carmen, and she has a fine dramatic soprano voice, well suited to operatic roles. Dr. Ferry sang a seldom-heard song of Rubenstein, and an aria form the Magic Flute, and Dr. Williams gave a pleasing group in English. Martha Morgan, programmed for a group of Schubert songs, was unfortunately prevented by illness from appearing.

The singers had the gratification of appearing before a capacity audience, which undoubtedly contributed to the fine feeling of their performance.—T. B. M.

Visitors' Day at Community Church

Next Sunday will be visitors' day at Community church school, in connection with the annual "Rally Day." After brief programs in each department, the regular work of the classes will proceed as usual, giving visitors a comprehensive idea of the routine.

At the morning worship service a double quartet will sing Gretchaninoff's "O, Lord Most Holy", under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Bardarson. Members of the quartet are May Williams, Ethel Ervine, Frances Schreiman, Mrs. Bardarson, Everett Smith, Miles Bain, Homer Bodley and Andrew Sessink.

During the service Rev. Bodley will speak on "What Do We Mean by 'Religious Education'?" At the close of the service teachers will be installed, including: Mrs. Mabel Hart, superintendent of beginners and primary; Miss Anna Mae Williams, teacher of beginners; Mrs. Wermuth, first grade; Mrs. Vive Harber, second grade; Mrs. Gertrude Morehouse, third grade; Miss Jean Nye, secretary. In the junior department Mrs. Clara Nixon is superintendent, the teachers are: Mrs. John Canoles, Mrs. H. S. Bodley and Rev. Bodley. Mrs. Hitchcock will be substitute teacher and secretary for the junior department. All friends of the church are cordially invited to be present this special day, which marks the opening of the new year.

READ THESE FACTS
Hiding under the innocent title of "Retail Store License," Proposition #22 on the November ballot is really a new scheme for taxing the public.
Proposing to tax individual stores $1 a year and chain stores $500.00 for each store over nine, it has been petitioned against by 136,000 Californians because
It Would Raise Prices
The U. S. Federal Trade Commission says: "If the ability to undersell, based on greater efficiency or on elimination of credit and delivery cost, is destroyed by taxation, it is the consuming public which will really pay the tax and not the chain."
It Would Be Unfair
Not a tax for revenue, not based on the ability to pay—it is an attempt to use the taxing power to destroy competition.
Small chain stores would be taxed up to 500,000 times as much per dollar of sales as big department stores.
It Would Hurt California
Chain stores now benefit California consumers, farmers, employment, property owners, taxpayers and investors. To cripple them is to hurt all California business.

Noted Dancer on Brief Visit

ADOLPH BOLM, the world-famous dancer and ballet master of the San Francisco Opera Company, paid a brief visit in Carmel during the early part of the week, accompanied by Mrs. Bolm and their son Olaf. He contrives to rest here for a few days whenever he has the opportunity, and is always a welcome figure.

Just now he is full of his summer's adventures, and of the project which is absorbing him; to see that a worthy dance festival is prepared as a major attraction of the San Francisco Exposition. He believes that he has hit upon the very thing in some of the surviving, primitive dances of the Indians of the Southwest. After assisting in the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of Hollywood Bowl last month, for which he put on his "Bach Cycle" and "Scheherazade" with the San Francisco Opera Ballet and achieved a triumph, he left with his wife and son for Gallup, N. M., for another "fifteenth anniversary" celebration, but a very different one. This was the Inter-Tribal Ceremonial, started 15 years ago by Gallup business men and Indian traders to foster the native arts and crafts and to preserve the beautiful rites, chants and dances. In last Sunday's Chronicle Mr. Bohm wrote a long and vivid article on his impressions of the celebration, again urging that steps be taken to bring the Indian dancers to San Francisco for the exposition.

Bill France Exercises Hobby Coloring Photos

Bill France, radiotrician, fire department member and rescue squad operative, has another spare time occupation of which he has just completed a fine example. For an officer at Monterey Presidio he has oil-tinted two large panoramic photographs of encampments at Gigling. They are about three feet long by a foot high, and represented considerable of a chore. Bill says he starts at the bottom and works up, in order to have the heavier colors where they belong, and gradually "wash-out" to horizon lines and sky. Trampled, dusty roads are left in their natural color, which approximates the actual tint of sand.

Monterey County Fair Promises To Be Outstanding Attraction

EVERYWHERE on the peninsula, it's Monterey County Fair. The atmosphere—aided and abetted by by the official fair costume of blue jeans, gay bandana, gaudy shirt, straw hat and other eccentricities—has invaded all of the three cities of Monterey, Carmel and Pacific Grove.

Meanwhile plans of the fair directors go on toward providing the greatest show ever held on the peninsula, and the greatest county fair of its size ever held anywhere. The fair will be held at the Monterey ball park, Oct. 8 to 11.

Of especial interest will be the art exhibit which promises to be the finest ever shown in conjunction with a county fair. Francis McComas has been appointed chairman of the art show committe, and has as fellow members Armin Hansen and Paul Dougherty.

All of these artists have promised to hang some of their own works, which alone would insure the success of the exhibit. A special building is being built at the fair grounds to house the exhibit.

Four outstanding kennels of the peninsula will hold a bench show at the fair as well, the show being held every day between the hours of 2 and 4 in the afternoon.

The Bay Crest Kennels, owned by Dr. E. F. Kehr of Carmel, will show Sealyham, Cairn terriers. L. K. Gentry will show Cocker Spaniels, and Miss Cheesebrough and Miss Shannon of the Valley View Kennels will show Kerry Blue terriers. Miss Marian Kingsland of the Del Monte Kennels will show French Poodles and Welsh terriers.

There will be outstanding cattle and agricultural exhibits of all kinds, with pure-blooded stock being imported to the fair from all over the state. Among the entertainment features will be a horse show and thrilling riding by the exhibition platoon of the 11th Cavalry, Monterey presidio. There will be vaudeville acts each day and evening.

PLAN SAN JOSE CONCERTS

Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous, concert managers, are to present a series of four concerts in the new San Jose civic auditorium this winter, taking over a series conducted for four years by San Jose State College. Beginning Nov. 18, their attractions will be Kreisler, Monte Carlo Russian Ballet, Richard Crooks and a fourth still undecided.

Gilmer-Polhemus Nuptials Sunday

In the presence of a large group of their friends and relatives from San Francisco, Miss Shirley Gilmer and John Polhemus will be married in St. John's Chapel, Del Monte, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The ceremony will be followed by an informal reception at Hotel Del Monte. Among the San Francisco socialites who will attend the wedding and the reception and spend the weekend at Del Monte are: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hobart, Mr. and Mrs. Deming Hobart, Mrs. Harold Plummer, Miss Jane Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Field and Miss Peggy Field, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Knecht, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swinnerton, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Johnson and Miss Charlotte Johnson. The engagement of the young couple was announced last week by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Hamet C. Gilmer of Hollister. Mr. Polhemus is the son of Mrs. John Polhemus of San Francisco. He is residing in Portland at present.

Miss Gilmer was the guest of honor at a large tea at Highlands Inn Saturday afternoon, given by Miss Viola Peterson at Salinas. At the same function, Miss Peterson announced her own betrothal to Lloyd Bertelsman, also of Salinas.

TO PRINCIPALS' MEET

Otto W. Bardarson will go to Oakland tomorrow to meet with the executive council of the California State Elementary Principals' Association. As out-going president, he is a member of the board of directors.

Music Project Makes Good Impression In First Concert

By THELMA B. MILLER

IN its first public concert Saturday evening at Pacific Grove High School auditorium, the Federal Music Project gave an excellent account chorus, orchestra and an instrumental trio. The audience was small, but those who attended carried away of itself. Units appearing were the the impression that nothing better has been done hereabouts in the way of organizing and training a small orchestra. If in general the performance was a shade careful and academic, that is merely to note a lack of spontaneity which will be forthcoming with more frequent public appearances, and to pay tribute to the seriousness with which preparation was made for this first ambitious program.

Concert-goers are perhaps inclined to under-estimate the musical possibilities of small orchestras. This one of the Federal Music Project numbers between 15 and 20 members. But the voices were all there, and about all that a larger group could contribute in addition would be a certain overwhelming, and presumably impressive, body of sound. The various sections were well balanced, and the music was as full-bodied as could be desired. Under the baton of Bernard Callery, assistant to Dene Denny, supervisor of the project, the orchestra achieved color, inflection and spirit, though in the latter quality there is room for growth, as we remarked before.

The orchestra, still only a few months old, was ambitious in undertaking the Haydn Symphony in G major, but it was well justified in doing so, as the results showed. This rich and tuneful work was given a splendid reading. In the selection of numbers throughout a fine discrimination was shown, for the program material was all important without being pedantic, colorful and melodious without being trite. In a group of shorter orchestral numbers were included the andante movement from the Italian symphony of Mendelssohn, in which, for the most part, the instruments are divided into two voices which play an exciting and tuneful game of touch and go. While the structure was respectfully and intelligently noted, the musical values were not neglected, and my own enjoyment reached its peak in the playing of this work. Another exceptionally beautiful selection was Gluck's "In Apollo's Temple", which has a shimmering, delicately emotional quality, and which the conductor and the orchestra played as if they were inspired by genuine love for the music and its beauty.

The orchestra displayed a certain vivacity in playing the "modern" selection by Guion, "Harmonica Player". Grainger's "Country Gardens" could go at a slightly faster tempo, and with more abandon.

The numbers of the chorus and the instrumental trio had previously been given at a program of the Musical Arts Club, and that they had profited by this "dress rehearsal" was shown in the greater assurance with which they played their part in the Saturday evening concert. Miss Denny's direction of the Bach chorals displayed discerning taste and fine feeling for the Bach tradition, and the choral voices, in an auditorium, blended even more effectively than in their previous more circumscribed setting. I was gratified to see more animation in the faces of the chorus as they attacked the sprightly and beautifully tuneful "Galway Piper", with its fine dynamic effects, and the Czechoslovakian dance song. Brahms Lullaby had a pleasingly intimate and tender quality.

The instrumental trio, consisting of Joe Logasa, Jean Crouch and Miss Denny, playing respectively violin, cello and piano, likewise achieved a better unity in the larger hall, and the 17th century sonata by Loeillet grows on second hearing. Its slower movements have a certain dark sonority, against which the grace and lightness of the two allegros are an effective contrast. Again, in the choice of this work, appears the tendency to select music which has a general interest because of its richness and engaging melody.

Red Cross Field Secretary on Visit Here Confers With Officials

MISS MARY JONES, field secretary for California of American Red Cross was a Carmel visitor this week. Monday afternoon she met with the executive committee of the local chapter at the home of Mrs. Karl Rendtorff, chairman.

This meeting disclosed the fact that the campaign leaders for the annual Red Cross roll call in November had been appointed by the committee and that they were already functioning in the building of a campaign organization. The leaders are: Mrs. Herbert John Morse, general campaign chairman, who made such an enviable record last year; Miss Elizabeth Todd, vice chairman in charge of district personnel, and C. W. Lee, campaign director.

Miss Jones made an interesting presentation of the various activities of American Red Cross during the past year. During the spring floods in the east and south, she was detailed to take charge of Red Cross activities in 13 counties of Southern New York and several counties in Pennsylvania. She paid a high tribute to the Coast Guard in the life saving efforts in that region. Boats and men were transported from the seaboard into the stricken areas. Later on Miss Jones was transferred into the tornado district around Gainesville, Ga., where Red Cross had entire charge of the rehabilitation work.

At the outset of the floods, Red Cross asked the nation for $3,000,000 followed by a second call. The response brought over $8,000,000 for relief, which demonstrated the confidence of our people in the work of Red Cross. Carmel gave more than its quota to this work.

"Red Cross, rehabilitated more than 135,000 families covering over 150 disasters this year", said Miss Jones. "In many cases this meant new homes and extensive repairs upon old homes, it meant food, clothing, shelter and affected the lives of 550,000 people. At Tulupo, Ga., we had 365 box cars on side tracks housing the entire population of the town, until homes could be built."

Col. T. B. Taylor, chairman Carmel Chapter disaster committee, was present at the meeting and made the statement that his organization was in readiness to function, if the need came. He will call a meeting of the various departmental heads next month to check plans fully.

"I know that Carmel will have no difficulty in raising its quota of 500 memberships in the November Roll Call", said Miss Jones, "nor in securing your local budget for the forthcoming year. Carmel has never failed us."

Baking Concern First To Get "Popeye" Rights

As a tribute to the enterprise of J. H Middleton and the Mission Baking Company, bakers of "Tastie Crust" bread, they are the first commercial account in the country to have the exclusive right to use "Popeye", that famous character of the comic pages and the screen, in their advertising. Beside being the first in the United States to use "Popeye", the Mission Baking Company will have exclusive rights to this feature in Monterey county. Plans have been made to organize a "Popeye Club" for the youngsters.

Simone Simon at Filmart Theater

The Filmart will complete a successful month with a strong bill of pictures. "The Last Journey", a thrilling British railway yarn, starts today. Sunday night it will be teamed with the film version of Somerset Maugham's famous novel, "Of Human Bondage", starring Leslie Howard and Bette Davis.

Next Wednesday and Thursday, "Lac Aux Dames", a beautiful French-Swiss picture, fully supplied with English dialogue titles, will be shown. This film, starring Simone Simon, so captivated Hollywood "scouts" who saw it screened in Paris, that they instantly engaged the little star on a long-term contract. It will be shown on the local screen later. The Filmart will afford Carmel the opportunity of seeing her in the very film which so fascinated the American studio sleuths.

Political Editor Visits Peninsula

Staying at Del Monte this week is Fred Myrtle of San Francisco, a former political editor of the Hearst papers, one of the first and foremost political commentators of the country. After retiring from active journalism, he was for a time director of publicity for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. He paid a visit to Carmel in the hope of seeing Perry Newberry, whom he knew many years ago as one of the famed "Coppa crowd" of San Francisco bohemians. That is just the sort of thing that happens when anyone with as many friends as Perry has leaves town for even a couple of months.

German Class to Open on Monday

A German class under the auspices of the department of adult education of Monterey Peninsula high school will open next Monday evening in the eighth grade room at Sunset school. The instructor will be Mrs. Otto Koehler, wife of the sculptor. Mrs. Koehler has lived in Carmel for the past three years, and is well known here. She has been in the United States for ten years. She has had a thorough academic grounding, including the "oberlyzeum" training which corresponds to a college course in this country; and a commercial course. She specialized in languages.

GUESTS OF BENSBERGS ON WAY TO PHILIPPINES

Col. and Mrs. George Grunert and their daughter Mary were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Bensberg for a few days, en route from the Washington, D. C., War College to the Philippines, where Col. Grunert will take commmand of the 26th Cavalry. From here they went to San Francisco to be the guests of General Simons, commander of the Ninth Corps area, before sailing. Mr. and Mrs. Bensberg gave a cocktail party Monday afternoon, inviting about 18 of their friends to meet the visitors.

Training Course for Girl Scouts

Miss Vaal Stark, regional director of Girl Scouts, will be on the peninsula next week to give a course of training for the Girl Scout Council, committee members and leaders. Next Tuesday, Sept. 29, she will come to the Girl Scout House in Carmel for a conference with the badges and awards committee from 2 o'clock to 4; with the public relations committee from 4 o'clock to 5; and for a leaders' meeting in the evening from 7:30 to 9:30.

The following day, Wednesday, she will confer at Pacific Grove Scout House with the training and personnel committee from 9 o'clock to 11; finance committee from 11 o'clock to 12; and on camp matters from 2 o'clock to 4.

On Thursday she will be at Monterey Girl Scout House, meeting leaders from 9 to 11:30; and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon she will meet with all council members.

After visiting friends and relatives here for several weeks, Miss Margaret Walker has returned to Reno, Nevada.

From Alomas, in Sonora, Mexico, Mrs. Amos Yaeger and her family came to Carmel for a brief stay at Carmel Inn.

A penny bank will pay the difference between ordinary lighting in your home and scientifically correct better light for better sight.
For better lighting today is both sensibly reasonable as well as scientifically right. Modern lamps are without fussy, frilly shades that subdue light. Modern lamps instead have light-colored shades that are open at the top and set on higher stands to give light a chance to diffuse throughout a room.
When a Sight Meter records or measures the difference between lamps of a few years ago and the modern Better Sight lamps of today, as much as 4 to 5 times as much light for seeing, reading, sewing, etc., is produced by the modern lamp.
More than a half million Better Sight lamps were sold last year. Persons who use them say there is nothing like them. These lamps do give more light, without glare, and for just a few pennies more a day than ordinary light that so often causes squinting and eye strain.
Replace small bulbs with lamps that give MORE LIGHT

PACIFIC GROVE

REUNITED for the first time since school let out for vacation, the members of the T. L. W. met Friday afternoon for a business and social session. Since the Misses Mildred Cashin, Doris Cook and Lorraine Borchers have graduated from high school and are now alumni, it was necessary to select new members. Those elected into the club included Misses Mildred Rose and Peggy McDonald. The remaining T. L. W.s are Misses Harriet Holman, Olivia Davis, Eloise Diffenbaugh, Ruth Down, Madeline Jacobsen, Evelyn Brier, and Jeanne Randol. Recent elections made Miss Randol president of the group, Miss Down, vice president, and Miss Diffenbaugh, secretary-treasurer.

Watsonville was the scene of a large bi-county convention of the Santa Cruz-Monterey Christian Endeavorers this last week-end. Most of the meetings were held in the Christian church of Watsonville, and the activities started with a banquet served there Saturday evening. During the services, nominations and election of new officers were held. Miss Ruth Coltidge of Pacific Grove was replaced by Miss Roberta Richie of Watsonville as county president. Paul Brown, state secretary, was the leader of the conference.

Services, meetings, and discussion groups continued all day Sunday, and an especially inspired service was conducted in the evening. Pacific Grove people staying in Watsonville overnight and attending the entire convention included Misses Roberta Moore, Margaret Giles, Virginia Banta, Dorothy Hoyt, Joan Ball, Davideen Ball, Dorothy Mack, Bernice McGill, Ruth Colridge, Ivy Watson, Peggy McDonald and Messrs. Robert Mumford and Robert Lawrence. Others registered for the conference Sunday and attended the afternoon and evening meetings: Mesdames Kenneth Copsey, Ralph Hovland, Spencer Hoyt, Carmen; Misses Peggy Hunter, Doris Cook, Olivia Davis, Avis MacKarcher; Mr. and Mrs. Loren Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Mack, Mr. and Mrs. John Hill Hunter, and Messrs. Silas Mack, Valdo Oleari, Floyd Landis, John Zimmerman, Don Duerr, Paul Taylor and George Bragdon.

L. T. Galbraith, councilman of Pacific Grove, left last week for a vacation trip to Gallatin, Tenn., where he will visit his mother, and look over his old home. On his way he will stop off in Chicago, Omaha, Culbertson, Neb., Denver and Idaho to visit relatives and friends. On his return journey he will visit in Portland, Ore. He is expected to return to the Grove around the last of October.

Faculty Conference at Sunset School

Sunset teachers met Tuesday noon in the cafeteria for the first of their series of frequent faculty conferences. Mr. Bardarson read a paper "defining" the preamble to the Constitution, outgrowth of some of his work at the Stanford summer session. Mr. Bardarson took up each of the clauses in the preamble, which generations of school children have learned by rote without much feeling for its essential significance, analyzed it, and related it to modern life, in an effort to present more clearly the "living" character of the great document.

TWO COURSES IN SPANISH OFFERED AT NIGHT SCHOOL

Two courses in conversational Spanish are being offered in Mrs. Beulah Perry's Monday evening Spanish class at Sunset school, under the auspices of the adult education department of the Monterey Union High School. Spanish I is for beginners, Spanish II, for those who have some knowledge of the language. Both classes meet Monday evenings at 7:15, in the seventh grade room.

Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Kocher entertained about 20 of their friends at a barbecue at their home in Carmel Highlands Sunday afternoon.

Landon Still Leads In Straw Vote With Western States Not Counted

WITH but a few of the 48 states heard from in the straw-vote poll being made through weekly newspapers throughout the country, Landon appears to have the lead over Roosevelt, while Lemke is a trailing third.

The national tabulation of this vote has been carried forward for the past five weeks. At the close of the fifth week, the standing of the candidates is as follows:

Landon	396,230	58.3%
Roosevelt	241,868	35.6
Lemke	31,171	4.6
Thomas	5,028	0.7
Colvin	2,131	0.3
Browder	3,573	0.5
Totals	680,001	100%

California, which will undoubtedly poll a huge vote for Roosevelt due to the large Democratic registration has not yet been heard from. Carmel, with a Republican registration, gives Landon 83 votes to Roosevelt's 66 on straw ballots returned to the office of The Pine Cone. These and other California ballots have not yet been tabulated in the national returns.

Reports reaching national straw-vote headquarters in the offices of the Publishers Autocaster Service, New York, indicates that there is wide interest in this poll because it reaches only the small town and farm voters and reflects the rural sentiment as it is recorded by the voters with their home town newspaper.

The keen interest being shown in this poll was reflected in national headquarters by a Fifth week rush of Roosevelt ballots, which if continued, will no doubt iron out some of the wide majorities piled up in Landon "hot spots," states where early voting was heavy on the G.O.P. side.

INSPECTION AT SUNSET

The annual health inspection at Sunset school is scheduled for next Monday and Tuesday. Dr. Fortier, county health officer, will be present to check the physical condition of the boys and girls.

THE LETTUCE STRIKE

Strange—or is it?—the bitter taste that lettuce has these days. It smells of blood and sweat and tears and hatred, and it will probably be quite a while before we feel like eating it again. Lettuce is not a luxury food. It is the salad of the great middle class, and even of laborers, and it is quite likely that the mass of purchasers on whom the lettuce industry depends find their gorge rising when they contemplate the succulent vegetable. The growers and their friends will have quite a time consuming all the product of the "$11,000,000 industry".

The Salinas strikers had two lucky breaks last week. One was the widely quoted statement from Governor Merriam, based on information furnished him by E. Raymond Cato, head of the state highway patrol, that the workers had hoisted red flags in their areas of activity. On no better evidence than that, the good governor developed his red scare, although many motorists on state highways have seen those highway markers and know what they signify. Yet the head of the state highway patrol failed to recognize them for what they were, and made that his most telling bit of evidence to prove that the strike was inspired and led by communists. It's a brave truck driver these days who continues to use a red warning flag at the tail-end of his load of lumber or pipe.

The other break for the strikers was the invasion of the red-baiter, Sanborn. That an "outside agitator" should have the temerity to proclaim himself dictator of three counties, and that the chief of police of Salinas should accept such a state of affairs, with other peace officers protesting but weakly, was the concrete evidence needed to show that the Constitution of the United States had been abrogated in those counties, that here was no "law and order" and that the mob ruled. To paraphrase Chester Rowell in The Chronicle, mob violence is mob violence, whether it is instituted by citizens or by officers charged with the enforcement of the law. Yes, the workers could not have asked for anything better than that the notorious Sanborn chose this time and place to tip his hand.

The Pine Cone is proud of Argyll Campbell. His statement Saturday was almost the first honest and courageous thing that had been said about the strike. It takes courage "to keep your head when all about are losing theirs." The striking union is an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor. Its strike was neither led nor inspired by reds. Undoubtedly there are reds in Salinas. They flock to scenes of violence and disorder like buzzards to carrion. Undoubtedly, if that is what they want, they are enrolling plenty of members now, probably as many among innocent bystanders and small merchants as among the striking workers. This is the sort of thing that hastens "the revolution". But place the blame where it belongs; at the door of the shipper-growers who incite violence, and their henchmen, the peace officers.

It is two long years until there is another county election. But that is not too long to remember the astonishing events of last week. Perhaps we citizens will have lost the right to vote by then, but if at that time we are not just rubber-stamping Sanborn or some other fuehrer, what a pleasure it will be to cast a vote against the county officials who allowed their machinery to be taken over on behalf of the shipper-growers.

AT DAWN

The cool, gray dawn comes stealing
Over land and sea.
In silvery accents calling,
"Arise, and walk with me."

The birds, with sleepy piping
Are stirring here and there,
And soon their happy singing
Will wake the dreaming air.

The restless waves of ocean
Are murmuring, deep and low,
Soothed by the gentle west winds,
That softly come and go.

A hush of expectation
Broods over sea and dell
For a magic thing is coming—
A sunrise in Carmel.

—MARY E. COLLINS.

SEA-SCAPE IN SHADOW

Weep not for summer sun
The fog that rises from the sea
Is but a soft and lovely veil
Subtly to shade her majesty.

The trees are sheer in silhouette
A symphony in greys
Stark martyrs straining toward dull skies
Remembering summer days.

—LIBBY LEY.

HERE'S LOOKING AT YOU

By LOIS COLLINS PALMER

ALL I know about the Salinas strike is what I read in the papers. Except for the fact that a real live striker crossed my path one evening, and I took advantage of the opportunity to cross-question him, prepared in advance to disbelieve most of what he said, but alert to the "atmosphere" of his words.

THE first surprise was that there was neither violence nor bitterness in his speech. He did not swear nor rant, although, on the other hand, the words "those goddam strikers" had been rather ringing in my ears all week. In fact, his discourse was dull, rather than lurid. It had a good deal to do with the background of the strike, rather than with first-hand account of exciting adventures. A lot of it sounded like a lawyer's talk, details and technicalities which I didn't understand very well. It was not a soap-boxer's speech, and this particular striker would never be able to hold a street-corner crowd. He didn't call the growers names, but his talk oddly paraphrased that of some capitalists I have heard. He said that the Salinas growers were all right, and were inclined to be fair. He blamed most of the trouble, and particularly the disorder and violence, on "outside agitators"—growers' agents from other parts of the state.

HE was very young, that striker, and intelligent, and clean. His hands were rough and calloused, but I couldn't help noticing, as I talked with him, how clean his teeth and hair and skin were. An irrelevant detail, but it seemed to impress me more than what he was saying. And another irrelevant thought came to me, which had nothing to do with what he was saying, but was an echo from strike-talk one hears on the street. About labor "trying to run" the employers' business. Yet always employers have "run" the workers' business, haven't they? The power to hire and fire is the power of life and death, to say nothing about that Constitutional provision mentioning "pursuit of happiness." Pursuit of happiness loses its savour when fear of want is uppermost.

WELL, that's that. I don't remember much of what the striker said, just his moderation. And when he said goodbye, in the interests of strict impartiality, I had to check a sort of maternal impulse to ask him to be careful not to get himself hurt.

LET'S HIRE AN ENGINEER

Kent Clark and William Silva, who have entitled themselves the "Taxpayers Council", last week addressed an open letter to the sanitary board, asking for the privilege of selecting an engineer to make a survey of the sanitary disposal needs of the district, with particular reference to the practicability of an outfall sewer. In other words, though they are not on the Sanitary Board, they ask for sanction in duplicating the functions of the board. The voters of the sanitary district declared their choice overwhelmingly of the men they wished to represent them on the Sanitary Board. They did not elect Mr. Clark and Mr. Silva, who had their opportunity to run for membership and proceed according to their policies.

If this is going to be a field day for private citizens making sanitary surveys, we want to be in on it. We hereby request the Sanitary Board for permission to import an engineer to make a survey of the Carmel Sanitary District. The district, of course, will pay the bill. That must be understood in advance. For we shall be no more disposed to accept the report of the "Taxpayers Council" engineer than Mr. Clark and Mr. Silva were to accept the report of the Sanitary Board's engineer. This can go on indefinitely, and won't we have fun? How about the Business Association? The Woman's Club? The P-T. A.? Wouldn't you all like to hire engineers to make surveys for the sanitary district? The supply of engineers is practically inexhaustible, and while we are mulling over the various and conflicting reports, we can put off indefinitely the day when we will have to spend 50 or 60 thousand dollars to build a disposal plant.

LET'S BE CONSTRUCTIVE

What does California need most these days, and what must it guard most against?

Lieut.-Gov. George J. Hatfield voiced his opinion about it in a speech the other day, and his words seemed thought-provoking enough to be worth repeating.

The need is a lively public interest and outspoken but constructive criticism of our state government, which apparently needs going over. The danger is the present tendency to raise a clamor of bitterness, slander and hatred that could undermine all confidence and trust in government itself.

"Let us put our house in order," Mr. Hatfield said, "but let us not, in the heat of partisanship, stoop to cheap opportunism, demogogic utterance and hypocritical abuse to gain a doubtful political advantage."

Perhaps it never occurred to many of us that radicals working for overthrow of government, try to egg the public on to destructive criticism and bitter vindicativeness. Yet that is one of their weapons, no matter what side the radicalism comes from.

Everyone must agree, at least, that we should use our privileges of free speech and free press to point the way toward improvement and progress, rather than to tear down and destroy.

There's a premium these political days on men who can speak very emphatically about nothing for an hour or so at a stretch.

Secret Fascist Session Held Here

Henry Sanborn, the Santa Rosa publisher of the "American Citizen", which carries at the top of its front page this line: "Published so that fascism may not become necessary to prevent communism from becoming a reality" and briefly "coordinator" of anti-strike activities in Salinas, was in Carmel about a month ago to address a private meeting of citizens, which was not given publicity at the time, it was disclosed here this week. A member of the audience interpreted his words as "highly inflammatory", virtually a call to fascist organization against what he declared was an imminent "red uprising." He intimated that both President and Mrs. Roosevelt were radically influenced, making the statement that when Mrs. Roosevelt comes to the coast "she always stays at the San Francisco hotel which is the headquarters of the communist party".

IN a setting made gay and colorful by Mexican art and handicrafts objects, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Shea gave a typically Mexican dinner dance Sunday evening at their home in Carmel Highlands. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. D. L. James, who left this week to return to their home in Kansas City, after their annual three months' stay at their residence in the Highlands. Mr. and Mrs. James have traveled extensively in Mexico, and last year they and the O'Sheas were together during the O'Sheas' long visit in the southern republic. The dinner consisted of Mexican viands exclusively, and during the evening music for dancing was supplied by Serano's tipica orchestra. There were about 20 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vaughn and their little daughter, Zabette, will leave for the east coast next week, after living for the past two years in the historic old farm house on Carmelo Bay, Point Lobos. Mr. Vaughn is the landscape engineer, who as representative of Frederick Law Omstead, has been engaged in a lengthy survey to ascertain the best methods of preserving the native cypress groves of Point Lobos, and to retain other natural features of the park. Mrs. Vaughn has participated in numerous dramatic activities, taking one of the lead roles in "Six Characters in Search of an Author" last year, producing a one-act play, "Overtones" for the Monday evening dramatic seminar at Sunset school, and coaching a beginners' group at the seminar during the summer. As a farewell courtesy to the Vaughns, Miss Abbie Lou Bosworth gave a buffet supper at her home Saturday evening, entertaining, in addition to the Vaughns, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lloyd and Laidlaw Williams.

Work on Scenic Drive Progresses

Having completed its work of applying the final top coating of gravel and oil on San Carlos street and Camino Del Monte, the street department, under Street Superintendent William Askew is this week concentrating its equipment on Scenic drive, where resurfacing work is going ahead at full speed. Scenic was graded two weeks ago, but the department switched its activities to other work, and this week marks the beginning of actual resurfacing. The first coating of oil and gravel has been applied to most of the drive, and when the entire length has been covered it will be left for several weeks until it has had time to set properly. This work is being paid for out of state gasoline tax allocations to Carmel, as is the improvement of the other two streets.

FLIES FROM OHIO

Miss Margaret Kelley flew out from her home in Columbus, Ohio, recently, has visited in Los Angeles and San Francisco and is now staying for a week or two at Carmel Inn.

STAYING AT CARMEL INN

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Clough of Carmel Valley have been staying at Carmel Inn, accompanied by Miss Frances Roslund, of Council Bluffs, Ia.

With Bal Masque Only Week Away Local Artists Are Kept on Toes

A WEEK from tomorrow the much heralded third annual Bal Masque of the Carmel Art Association will be underway.

The huge dining room at Del Monte will be ablaze with color reflected from massive canvases painted by America's leading artists.

On the stage will be a bevy of glamorous girls from Hollywood in new and daring routines under the direction of Reeves Espee, noted impresario of the Samuel Goldwyn studios.

On the dance floor will be 1200 invited guests in clever and original costumes. For them it will be the gayest and most sophisticated party of the year.

But for members of the Carmel Art Association it will have a deeper significance. To the artists it will be the culmination of three weeks of intensive preparation and the means of carrying on the work of the association.

Were it not for proceeds derived each year from the Bal Masque it would be impossible for the Carmel Art Association to keep its door open to the public without solicitation of funds.

While men whose names stand at the top of the art world are putting finishing touches to the decorations, noted authors in the vilage have taken time off from their literary work and are writing skits for the bizarre floor show.

All who have received invitations to the affair were urged today by Armin Hansen, president of the Carmel Art Association, to exchange them as soon as possible for tickets.

These tickets may be obtained in Carmel at Staniford's drug store, or at Hotel Del Monte, Del Monte Lodge or Wickenden's in Salinas. No tickets may be purchased without invitations.

Because of the invitational nature of the party the entertainment will be "bolder than bold" and promises to set a new high for bizarre buffoonery.

Blake and Amber have been selected as the official costumers and will be at Hotel Del Monte all next week with a large selection of costumes.

City Council "Going to School" to Study Up on Building Ordinance

THE city council is "going to school" beginning next Wednesday evening, and the purpose of the series of round-table classes of which this will be the first, will be to formulate a building ordinance. The text-book will be the Pacific Standard Building Code, though it is doubtful if this will be adopted in its entirety. Attention will be given to such portions as are adaptable to Carmel, and the whole question will be studied thoroughly before an ordinance is prepared. Builders, architects and others interested will be welcome to sit in with the council at its preliminary conferences.

At its meeting Wednesday evening numerous communications were read, and one resolution was passed, empowering the street superintendent to execute a project statement referring to the use of state gasoline tax money for main arterials. Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Butterfield applied for the transfer of the business license for The Little Gallery from Reginald Markham, from whom they recently purchased the shop. This will be granted. The P. T. & T. Company sent in a check for $10 as a guarantee to replace the landscape after laying an underground cable along Seventh between Casanova and Camino Real. By ordinance, a rate of 20c per square foot has been set as the value of native vegetation, and the company will be asked to put up $30 more.

Rudolph Bramer wants a refund of $82 on his initial business fee of $100, which he said was due in July, and wonders why it has been so long deferred? His question was laid over to the next meeting, with a request for a full report from the tax collector. L. O. Kellogg requested the removal of a small pine from city property on San Antonio, south of Eleventh, in order to facilitate access to a cottage and garage he has just built.

A letter from City Manager Pardee of Monterey confirmed the arrangement for boarding Carmel's prisoners; $1 per night and the cost of restaurant meals to be paid by Carmel, and Monterey assuming no responsibility for prisoners lost in transit to the restaurant. A defense of house-cars and trailers as toys of the well-to-do and thereby not apt to cause a sanitary nuisance was written by D. H. Harthorne, together with a plea against adverse legislation was filed without comment. Edgar McLeod complained of inconvenience to which he has been put by the closing of Crespi lane near his garage.

CONFERS WITH McADOO

Argyll Campbel went to Santa Barbara Monday night, spending Tuesday in conference with Senator William Gibbs McAdoo on matters connected with the California Democratic campaign, and lunching with Senator and Mrs. McAdoo at their home in Montecito.

Women Voters In Monthly Meet

THE Monterey County League of Women Voters executive board held its monthly meeting Wednesday morning at Mission Inn, Monterey, with Mrs. Ritter Holman presiding, as the president, Mrs. Carl Voss, was unable to be present because of illness. Mrs. Paul Eliel, state president, attended, and also persent was Miss Constance Kirlin, national secretary. Miss Kirlin reported on the progress of national legislation in which the league is particularly interested. She discussed latest developments in the drive for the merit system, stressing the need for legislation placing post masters under civil service, rather than leaving the mater with the president's executive order to that effect.

Due to pressure, particularly from women, the situation now looks more promising than ever before for effective food and drug legislation, and she predicted that a satisfactory law would be introduced and passed at the next session of Congress. Working out of reciprocal trade agreements was also discussed as a matter of special interest to the league.

It was decided to devote the October meeting to further discussion of state measures to appear on the November ballot, making three league programs on this subject. The attendance at the first meeting, addressed by Robert Fouke, was not large, and it was felt that even for those who attended, more intensive study of the propositions would be beneficial. Mrs. Eliel, at the general meeting next Wednesday, will discuss only those measures in which the League is particularly interested.

Church Food Sale to Open Tomorrow

An opportunity to buy something particularly good for Sunday dinners will be provided by the cooked food sale to be held tomorrow at Carmel Garage on Ocean avenue, for the benefit of Community church. Under the general direction of Mrs. Jettie Tuthill, a hundred of Carmel's best woman cooks, and even several men who cook as a hobby, and therefore are particularly good, are exerting themselves in order to offer their very best wares to tomorrow's buyers.

The sale will open at 10 o'clock tomorrow, and will continue until everything is sold, which may be fairly early in the afternoon, so prospective patrons are warned not to put off visiting it until too late in the day. A soliciting committee, consisting of Miss Clara Hinds, Mrs. George Beardsley, Mrs. Mabel Turner, Miss Agnes Williston, Mrs. E. A. Morgan, and Mrs. Everett Smith, have made every effort to interview everyone who might be interested in contributing goodies for the sale, but in case they have overlooked any willing worker, they ask for a reminder that it is still not too late to contribute, and all offerings in the way of cakes, pies, salads, meat loaves, beans, macaroni, candy or other dishes will be gratefully received.

Serving behind the counters will be Mrs. Edna Lockwood, Mrs. Gertrude Bardarson, Mrs. Amy Mylar, Mrs. Alice Askew, Mrs. Dorothy Hilbert, Mrs. Ruth Sessink, Mrs. Gertrude Morehouse, Mrs. Marjorie Bodley and Miss Agnes Williston. Mrs. Lida Warner has made several distinctive posters on display in down-town shop windows; O. W. Bardarson and Rev. Homer Bodley have served as "press agents".
